Judge Landis Says Verdicts of Juries Cannot Restore Freed Sox to Good Standing.

HEYDLER NOT DISMAYED

Johnson Declares Verdict Does Not Minimize Magnitude of Offence Committed.

'Must Be Barred From Game at All Hazards'

OLONELS Ruppert and Huston yesterday upheld Julge Landis in the latter's statement regarding the freed Black Sox. They issued the following statement:

"Judge Landis's statement regarding the White Sox players has our unqualified support. These ball players must be barred from the national game at all hazards. Their own confessions make them imposonfessions make them impos-

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. form upon which Judge Landis was chosen dictator of professional base oall, still stands, the Judge indicated to-day. He declared that verdicts of furles cannot restore the seven freed Sox to good standing, and that they are forever barred from professional

"Regardless of the verdicts of juries," said the Judge, "no player throws a game, no player that undertakes or promises to throw a ball game, no player that sits in a conference with a bunch of crooked players and gamblers where the ways and means of throwing games are planned and discussed and does not promptly tell his club about it, will ever play professional baseball.

Nor can Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, who dropped thouands of dollars because of the loss f the 1919 world's series, forget that three of the Red Sox made confessions before the Grand Jury and reaffirmed the confessions before Judge Charles A. McDonald, Chief Justice of the Criminal Court. The words "not guilty" of the jury do not, to them, remove the memory of the world's series games of 1919.

In his statement Judge Landis leaves the opening for any one of the ball players who stood trial to present his case if he has the nerve to face the Judge and if he has the faith that he can show himself to have clean hands in his policy of "a square deal to the public" the Judge also has in mind a square deal to individuals.

Game Can Protect Itself.

"Of course, I don't know." continued the Judge, "that any of these men will apply for reinstatement, but if they do the rules I have just stated are at least a few that will be enforced. Just keep it in mind that, regardless of the verdicts of juries, baseball is entirely competent to protect itself against the crooks, both inside and outside the rame."

He finished his statement with a ges ure that bespoke the competency of caseball's arbiter to keep crookedness and crooked players out of the game. What other rules he may have in mind or the applicants for reinstatement the Judge did not divulge.

Comiskey declared to-day that the verdict freeing his former players did not change his stand and that ustil they "cleared themselves" to his satisfaction he would have nothing to do with them.

"Cleared confessed he was guilty and "Cicotte confessed he was guilty and plicated others," Comiskey said. "We implicated others," Comiskey said. "We had three confessions. Unless those implicated can offer a good excuse we will have nothing to do with them."

Comiskey said that he would have a complete statement on the matter in a day or two and refused to make further comment until that time.

Judge McDonald, to whom several "Black Sox" confessions were made, refused to talk about the outcome of the trial. As Chief Justice of the Criminal Court he was in charge of the Grand Jury which returned the indictments.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, declared in a statement. "A very good lessen has been taught. The trial of the indicted players and gamblers which closed yesterday ungamblers which closed yesterday unovered the greatest crime it was poscovered the greatest crime it was pos-sible to commit in baseball. The fact that the men were freed by a Cook county jury does not alter the conditions one lota or minimize the magnitude of auch offences. The energetic prosecu-tion of the State clearly Indicates that crimes of this character will not be permitted to go unchallenged."

President Heydler Disappointed.

John Heydler, president of the National League, is disappointed over the fallure to convict the indicted players, but is convinced baseball fans throughout the country realize that every effort was made to prove the players in volved in the case were associated with notorious gamblers in depriving the public of seeing a world's series championship contested on its merits.

"Fallure to convict the indicted ball players was sorely disappointing," said Meydler, "but I am not at all discouraged over the outcome, because the sequittal was secured solely on the inability to prove conspiracy and not on the question of crooked baseball players.

The fallure to convict the indicted ball players was sorely disappointing," said Meydler, "but I am not at all discouraged over the outcome, because the sequittal was secured solely on the inability to prove conspiracy and not on the question of crooked baseball players are or are not guilty. They also are pow in a position to conjecture whether the men ought to be permitted to return to baseball.

There is a wide difference between cominal and baseball laws, but the game is now strongly fortified to protect itself against situations of that nature should any more arise."

"Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, expressed himself as being very much pleased that Judge Landis will not permit these men to play again in propleased that Judge Landis will not permit these men to play again in professional baseball," he said, "I am greatly disappointed at the verdict.
